2. Social responsibility.

We are committed to ensuring that our raw materials are not associated with human rights violations, forced or child labor. We work with our suppliers to ensure that workers' rights are respected throughout the supply chain and that measures are taken to improve working conditions, ensure decent wages and prevent exploitation.

3. Transparency and traceability

We are committed to knowing the origin of our raw materials and taking measures to ensure traceability throughout the supply chain. We seek to work with suppliers who share our values and are willing to provide detailed information about their sourcing practices.

4. Collaboration with stakeholders

We recognize that responsible sourcing of raw materials requires close collaboration with our suppliers, nongovernmental organizations, governments and other stakeholders. We seek to establish partnerships and open dialogue with these stakeholders to address challenges and promote continuous improvement in our supply practices.

5. Innovation and search for sustainable alternatives

We invest in the research and development of sustainable alternatives to traditional raw materials. We promote innovation and adoption of new technologies to reduce dependence on unsustainable raw materials and develop more eco-friendly solutions.
